* Marc O'Sullivan became the Fund Manager for the Wesleyan International Growth Fund and the Wesleyan Moderate-High Risk/Reward Income Fund from 1 January 2024.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER'S STATEMENT

A lot has happened since my last update at the end of June 2023. We've seen inflation continue to fall in the US, Europe and the UK, but geopolitical tensions have risen in the Middle East as the conflict between Israel and Hamas spilled over into the Red Sea. Meanwhile, there appears to be no end in sight either for the war in Ukraine as the second anniversary of the start of the conflict looms in early 2024. Our thoughts are always with anyone caught up in conflict around the world.

There was a pleasing turnaround in bond and equity markets in the final few months of 2023, causing unit prices to rise and bringing some much-needed Christmas joy for investors. Global stock markets rallied as investors' initial fears over the crisis in the Middle East subsided (albeit temporarily) and hopes were reignited that global interest rate cuts were on the horizon in 2024. The healthier returns for the months of November and December were welcome news, and I am pleased to say, benefitted our WUTM lower-to moderate-risk funds that typically hold more fixed income investments. This change in market sentiment saw our Moderate Risk Unit Trust Fund, for example, return more than 7% for our investors in the last two months of 2023.

FALLING INFLATION AND INTEREST RATE PEAKS

Towards the end of the year, it was looking like the battle with inflation was paying off for central banks as the US, Europe and the UK all saw their inflation figures fall, and analysts were predicting that interest rates had now finally peaked.

In the UK, inflation fell steadily throughout the year, with the biggest drop in October (down to 4.6%) – a rate not seen in over 16 months. By the end of the year headline CPI inflation had further reduced to 4%, which allowed Prime Minister Rishi Sunak to claim victory in his pledge to halve inflation by the end of 2023.

A similar inflation story can be told for Europe and the US, where headline inflation fell to 2.8%, and 3.4% respectively, by the close of the year, which marked significant falls for both regions compared to the dizzy inflation heights reached in 2022.

The big questions now are when will central banks start to cut interest rates in 2024, and by how much? In December, the Federal Reserve in the US forecast three 0.25% interest rate cuts for the year ahead and market commentators are also expecting cuts by the Bank of England and the European Central Bank in 2024. We know that what happens with the world's largest economy normally has a knock-on effect elsewhere, so we await the news with bated breath.

OUR STEWARDSHIP ACTIVITY

You will no doubt remember the sweltering September temperatures that hit much of the UK last year (peaking at 33.5 degrees). The Met Office predicts that we will see more frequent and intense weather extremes caused by the effects of climate change.

We are ever-more passionate about helping to reduce the negative impact that the businesses we invest in may have on people and our planet. The work that our award-winning Investments Team does with our investee companies is vital for playing our part in the fight against climate change. Our team of Sustainable Investment professionals, Fund Managers and Investments Analysts will call out anything that they feel does not comply with our Sustainable Investing Policy.

In 2023, the team attended over 350 meetings with the management of our investee companies to encourage better business practices. We also voted at over 470 company meetings, ensuring our voice as an investor was heard and where we actively encouraged them to be more sustainable and profitable over the long term. OUR PRODUCTS AND INVESTMENT FUNDS

WUTM offers six funds, each with its own unique risk rating and objectives, to meet our customers' investment needs. These funds are: International Growth Fund (page 9), Low Risk/Reward Growth Fund (page 21), Moderate-High Risk/Reward Income Fund (page 41), Moderate Risk/Reward Growth Fund (page 59), Risk Averse Fund (page 82), and UK Growth Fund (page 91). There are three WUTM products through which you can invest: a Unit Trust Investment Account, a Unit Trust Individual Savings Account (ISA), and a Unit Trust Junior ISA.

Don't forget that you can look at your investment valuations in real time by using the WUTM online Investor Portal. It's easy to register and log in by visiting www.wesleyan.co.uk/wutm-online.

Remember, there is no initial charge for customers who decide to take out our products online.

As we look to the new year, for the first time in a long time, I am encouraged by the falls in inflation that we have seen during 2023. I am quietly optimistic that the buoyancy that was found in stock markets and bond markets towards the end of the year is hopefully a sign of better times ahead for investors in 2024, and in years to come. Volatility will remain an inevitable feature of investing, but a return to more normal investment conditions would be welcomed after some exceptionally difficult years.

As long-term investors, we are always able to find opportunities in downward markets. For example, in 2023, we were able to purchase longer-dated government bonds for those of our funds where it was eligible to do so and lock in to more attractive yields (of typically 4–5%). Maintaining our investing discipline during tougher times enables us to lay the foundations which support our longer-term returns in the future – which should prove good news for our funds and allow us to deliver good outcomes for our investors.

AUTHORISED FUND MANAGER REPORT

INTRODUCTION

This is the half year report of the Wesleyan Authorised Unit Trust ('Trust') for the period ended 31 December 2023.

The Trust is managed by Wesleyan Unit Trust Managers Limited ('Manager').

The Trust is an authorised unit trust in an umbrella form and was authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) effective 4 September 2015. The Trust is classified under the Collective Investment Scheme Sourcebook ('COLL') as a collective investment scheme authorised under the UCITS Directive.

The Trust was established pursuant to a Trust Deed dated 4 September 2015 (as amended from time to time) made between the Manager and HSBC Bank Plc ('Trustee'). The Trust has an unlimited duration.

Details of the managers and advisers of the Trust are disclosed on page 104.

STRUCTURE OF THE TRUST

The Trust is structured as an umbrella unit trust, in that different funds may be established from time to time by the Manager with the approval of the FCA, the agreement of the Trustee and in accordance with the Trust Deed.

The assets of each fund will be treated as separate from those of every other fund and will be invested in accordance with the investment objective and investment policy applicable to that fund.

Each fund has a specific portfolio to which that fund's assets and liabilities are attributable. So far as the Unitholders are concerned, each fund is treated as a separate entity. Unitholders are not liable for the debts of the Trust or for any other fund.

Subject to the above, each fund will be charged with the liabilities, expenses, costs and charges of the Trust attributable to that fund, and within each fund charges will be allocated between classes in accordance with the terms of issue of units of those classes. Any assets, liabilities, expenses, costs or charges not attributable to a particular fund may be allocated by the Manager in a manner which it believes is fair to the unit holders generally. This will normally be pro rata to the Net Asset Value of the relevant funds.

The base currency of each fund is pounds Sterling.

As at 31 December 2023, the Trust comprised of the following funds:

Wesleyan International Growth Fund

Wesleyan Low Risk/Reward Growth Fund

Wesleyan Moderate-High Risk/Reward Income Fund

Wesleyan Moderate Risk/Reward Growth Fund

Wesleyan Risk Averse Fund

Wesleyan UK Growth Fund

All of the above funds are managed by the Manager. Details of other management and advisers of the funds are disclosed on page 104.

UNITS

The rights represented by units are those of a beneficial interest under the Trust. Several classes of units may be issued in respect of each fund.

Further classes of units may be established from time to time by the Manager with the approval of the FCA, the agreement of the Trustee and in accordance with the Trust Deed. On the introduction of any new class, a revised prospectus will be prepared, setting out the details of each class.

Units in the Trust are not currently listed on any investment exchange.

Holders of income units are entitled to be paid the distributable income attributed to such units on any relevant interim and/or annual income allocation dates. The Manager, at its discretion, may also permit unit holders to elect to reinvest any such distributable income instead of receiving payment. In this event, the income will be used to purchase additional units in the same fund.

Holders of Accumulation units are not entitled to be paid the income attributed to such units, but that income is automatically transferred to (and retained as part of) the capital assets of the relevant fund on the relevant interim and/or annual accounting dates. This is reflected in the price of an accumulation unit.

UNIT HOLDERS – TAXATION

The information below is a general guide based on current United Kingdom law and HM Revenue & Customs practice which are subject to change. It summarises the tax position of the funds and of direct personal investors who are United Kingdom residents and hold units as investments. This does not detail the tax treatment for corporate or trustee unit holders.

INCOME

The funds may pay dividend distributions (which will be automatically retained in the relevant fund in the case of accumulation units). There is currently a tax free dividend allowance. Dividends received above this allowance from investments not held within an Individual Savings Account are taxed at a rate that depends on the investor's income tax band.

INTEREST

Where a fund pays an interest distribution (which will be automatically retained in the fund in the case of accumulation units) this is gross of the basic rate of tax from 6 April 2016 for some people (depending on their tax bands).

There is currently a tax free Personal Savings Allowance (except for additional rate tax payers). Interest distributions received above this allowance from investments not held within an Individual Savings Account or Junior Individual Savings Account are taxed at a rate that depends on the investor's income tax band.

INCOME EQUALISATION

The first income allocation received by an investor after buying units may include an amount of income equalisation, which will be shown on the issued tax voucher. This is effectively a repayment of the income equalisation paid by the investor as part of the purchase price. It is a return of capital, is not taxable, and should be deducted from the acquisition cost of the units for capital gains tax purposes.

CAPITAL GAINS

Unit holders may be liable to pay capital gains tax on gains arising from the redemption, transfer or other disposal of units. The rate of tax, and available reliefs, will be as applicable from time to time. An exchange of units between classes within a fund is generally not treated as a disposal for this purpose.

Units in each of the funds may be held within Individual Savings Accounts and would be exempt from personal liability to income or capital gains tax. Unit holders who have invested in the funds through an Individual Savings Account or Junior Individual Savings Account should refer to the Key Features Document for further details of how it operates.

WESLEYAN INTERNATIONAL GROWTH FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan International Growth Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges of 3.69%* over the period, compared to the benchmark that delivered a return of 7.04%.

The fund's disappointing performance over the six months comes after a stronger prior year. The fund's lower exposure to US equities than the benchmark detracted from performance, as the US continues to manage inflation and economic challenges better than their European and emerging markets counterparts.

The economic backdrop in the reporting period saw a meaningful reduction in inflation, and a steady rise in expectations that the current levels of interest rates from central banks were likely to be reduced during 2024. Towards the end of the period, the chances of escalation of the conflict in the Middle East seemed more muted, also aiding market optimism.

The US delivered an 8.2% return in the six months to 31 December 2023, nearly a percent ahead of the global equity market, driven by double-digit returns from the technology sector. The UK and Europe delivered more modest returns of 5.2% and 5.9% respectively, while emerging markets delivered 4.7%.

The largest contributors to the fund's performance were Novo Nordisk (healthcare) and Microsoft (technology) – two of the fund's largest holdings, which were up 29% and 11% respectively. Other notable contributors included Meta (technology), Sage (technology), and Rio Tinto (mining). The largest detractors were LVMH (luxury), Estée Lauder (cosmetics) and Oracle (technology).

In the period, the fund added a new holding in Alphabet (technology), as well as adding to its position in Basic-Fit NV (European gyms), Merck KGaA (healthcare and semiconductors) and Samsung (technology). The fund took some profits in Novo Nordisk and reduced its position in American Express (financials), Cognizant (IT services) and Royal Caribbean (cruise liner).

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

FUND OUTLOOK

Equity markets have rallied from the autumn months of 2023 as hopes of subsiding inflation have materialised, while economic growth expectations have held up better than feared. Some of the recent economic strength has been delivered by government spending policies, most notably in the US where current spending is notably more than tax revenues, and government jobs have been meaningful contributors to the strong US employment economic updates. Whilst it would usually be our position to question the sustainability of such policies, we are highly aware that the US, as well as a record number of the world's population, are voting this year in elections, and history tells us that election years are not often periods of fiscal prudence.

We expect economic growth in the US to moderate in 2024 compared to the strong finish in 2023. We expect European and UK economies to improve compared to their weaker finish to 2023, but for the US to still grow at a faster rate than UK and European peers. At a high level this broadly supports the fund's positioning in favour of Europe compared to the US, particularly given the valuation discounts available.

We continue to believe that key positions in the fund are exceptionally well positioned for the long term – such as Microsoft's strong rollout of Copilot within its office suite, combined with its positioning in cloud computing. We remain optimistic about the prospects of Novo Nordisk as it continues to roll out its obesity drugs. LVMH started the year poorly, in similar fashion to how it ended 2023, but has rallied with better-than-expected results, and we remain positive.

While the fund has limited direct exposure to China, there have been holdings that have negatively impacted the fund, such as US listed Yum! China, or from indirect exposure within investment trust holdings. We anticipate our positioning towards the higher-quality technology and consumer-focused sectors, and away from real estate and financials, leaves the fund able to maintain exposure to an attractive long-term consumer market, without a high level of exposure to the structural challenges currently facing the region.

* Fund shown is the X-Class Accumulation series, bid prices at the end of the day. Performance of all unit series are available on pages 16–17.

 The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 95% FTSE All-World - Total Return Index, and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The benchmark is rebalanced annually on 1 January, and makes no allowances for taxes, fees and charges.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 95% FTSE All-World – Total Return Index, and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest predominantly in a diversified portfolio of equities. The equities in which the Fund invests may be issued by companies anywhere in the world.

The Fund may invest in various sectors. The Fund may also invest in fixed interest and other transferable securities, cash, near cash, deposits, money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes.

The Fund may use derivatives for the purpose of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year.

The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

Corporate unitholders information

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% franked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates. Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase. The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew. This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

WESLEYAN LOW RISK/ REWARD GROWTH FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan Low Risk/Reward Growth Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges of 7.18* over the period, compared to the benchmark that delivered a return of 7.98%.

Whilst it is disappointing that the fund underperformed its benchmark return over the six-month review period, it is encouraging to see the fund producing positive absolute returns to the benefit of unitholders. Moreover, it considerably outperformed comparable funds net of charges in the IA Mixed Investment 0–35% Shares sector, which returned 5.34%.

The review period began with global economies displaying a degree of uncertainty over whether interest rate increases from central banks would be sufficient to curb still elevated inflationary pressures. By early August the Bank of England announced what looks set to be their final rate hike, with a 0.25% increase to set the bank rate at 5.25% – the highest level since 2008. UK Government bond (gilt) yields moved higher over the summer, reflecting this uncertainty.

While this was a slight reprieve for many consumers and businesses facing increasingly demanding interest payments, the wider financial markets waited with bated breath – uncertain of the direction of the economy. There was a fear that the 'higher for longer' rhetoric espoused by central banks was a policy misstep that would send economies into recession at the expense of bringing inflation down.

To the surprise of investors, the narrative shifted rapidly in November, with central banks signalling a policy pivot towards lowering rates – a positive sign for the direction of the economy. Having risen from its start of period 4.4% yield to a peak of 4.7% in October, the UK ten-year gilt yield contracted to 3.5% by year end generating positive returns for bond holders. Equity markets followed in tandem, leading to positive returns across most financial asset classes.

The fund benefited from its allocations towards longer-dated gilts as interest rate expectations declined. The gradual additions of longer-dated maturity bonds over preceding periods proved to be beneficial to performance as they outperformed shorter-dated bonds.

Corporate bond spreads (an indirect measure of default risk) contracted during the period – reflecting the market's more optimistic view of business conditions. This resulted in strong outperformance of corporate bonds over other major asset classes and acted as a positive contributor to the fund's performance, due to its higher exposure to that sector relative to the benchmark.

Overall, equity markets delivered positive returns; however, not without a high degree of skew within underlying sectors and geographies. US equity markets led, driven primarily by a subset of mega-cap technology stocks – the so-called Magnificent Seven (Alphabet, Amazon, Apple, Meta, Microsoft, Nvidia and Tesla). Whilst the fund had some exposure to this area of the market, it was to a lesser extent than the benchmark – which duly held back relative performance.

While geopolitical events once again escalated during the period, pushing oil prices incrementally higher, the effect on financial markets was relatively benign. Commodity prices overall recovered from a comparatively weaker base as the economic outlook became less dour. Energy and basic material companies outperformed relatively in the period.

During the period, the fund took advantage of positive equity market returns to trim its exposure to UK equity markets. However, the fund retained an overweight position in UK equities, which led to a relative detractor in performance – albeit offset by positive stock-picking within energy and basic materials, as well as interest sensitive sectors such as Real Estate Investment Trusts. Performance of the international equity portfolio was encouraging despite a relative underweight position – with strong contributions from holdings in Intel, Microsoft, and Alphabet.

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

FUND OUTLOOK

Although it is encouraging to see financial markets beginning to normalise, it remains too presumptive to conclude that the many disruptive global events over the past few years are entirely over. The Ukraine conflict shows little sign of ending and unrest in the Middle East and the Red Sea has the potential to re-ignite inflationary forces.

The pace of financial market movements towards the end of 2023 should certainly be taken with great caution. The implied 'soft landing' scenario, whereby economies escape a recession, is far from certain. Global inflation, whilst subsiding, remains higher than central bank long-term targets, and GDP growth remains comparatively muted.

Additionally, business confidence indicators, such as manufacturing PMIs (Purchasing Managers' Index), have yet to reflect the same level of optimism. Consumer conditions also appear increasingly fragile in this environment, with rising credit card debt and delinquency rates showing tangible strains on household finances. The path of monetary policy decisions will likely once again dictate the evolution of financial markets in the near term and could pivot sharply as we have seen in the prior review period.

Meanwhile, 2024 is shaping up to be rife with even more geopolitical uncertainty – with national elections expected to be held in over 60 countries – affecting over a quarter of the world's population. As we have seen in recent history, the outcome of political regime changes should not be taken lightly.

In view of a potentially more volatile period of changing expectations, we will maintain a diversified portfolio, seeking to be selectively opportunistic during times of pricing anomalies. We retain a general preference for equities over bonds, seeking long-term growth – even in times of short-term uncertainty.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

From 1 July 2023, the composite benchmark is composed as follows: 15% FTSE All-Share Index, 15% FTSE Developed World ex UK Index, 32.5% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks Index, 32.5% iBoxx (Sterling) Corporates Index and 5% Sterling Overnight Index Average (SONIA) interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest predominantly in a diversified portfolio of government bonds, corporate bonds, UK and International equities and cash.

Investment will generally be made in sterling denominated assets but the Fund may at the Manager's discretion invest in non-sterling denominated assets.

The Fund may also invest in other fixed interest and transferable securities, near cash, deposits, money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes. More than 35% of the Fund may be invested in government and public securities issued by or on behalf of or guaranteed by the Government of the United Kingdom.

The Fund may use derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year.

The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

More information about fund performance, including benchmarks and comparisons, can be found later in this report.

Corporate unitholders information

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% unfranked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates. Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase. The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew. This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

WESLEYAN MODERATE-HIGH RISK / REWARD INCOME FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan Moderate-High Risk/Reward Income Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges of 5.79%,* compared to the benchmark that delivered a return of 6.63% over the same period.

The period saw global developed market equities outperform their UK and emerging market counterparts, delivering 7.6%, 5.2% and 4.7% respectively. We also saw sterling corporate bonds finish up 10.9%, as yields and credit spreads tightened, outperforming UK government bonds that delivered 7.4%.

The end of the period saw strong gains in global equities as the US Federal Reserve signalled that interest rate cuts were a possibility in 2024, a view that became widespread across multiple countries as global inflation rates fell. Moderating inflation caused widespread optimism, particularly as the risks of contagion eased from the conflict in the Middle East. Emerging market equities underperformed but saw a high degree of divergence, as markets such as India performed excellently, driven by strong economic progress, while China's equity market weakness stood as a reminder to the ongoing challenges facing its real estate sector.

The fund modestly underperformed its benchmark in the period. Within the fund's fixed income holdings, the lower-than-benchmark allocation to corporate bonds detracted from performance, despite good performances from the underlying holdings. The allocation to cash detracted from performance, as other asset classes pushed higher. Within equities, performance was solid except for the selection within developed ex-UK stocks, which was primarily the lower-than-benchmark exposure to some of the best performing US technology companies, as well as some underperformance from the fund's consumer discretionary exposure. It is worth noting that the fund slightly outperformed the comparable funds within the IA Mixed Investment 40–85% Shares sector that returned 5.57% over the period.

The largest contributors to the fund's performance were Novo Nordisk (healthcare), Elementis (chemicals), Domino's Pizza, Microsoft (technology) and RELX (information and analytics). The biggest detractors to the fund's performance included Diageo (beverages), facing a more challenged demand environment and Prudential (insurance), exposed to China. Other detractors included Smith & Nephew (medical devices), Burberry (luxury goods), and St James's Place (wealth management).

In the reporting period, the fund bought longer-dated UK government bonds with the most notable purchases being the 2045 and 2038 bonds. The fund initiated several positions including CTS Eventim (events), Nestlé (consumer goods), after a period of share price weakness, and Lem Holdings (industrial). The fund added to multiple existing positions, including Basic-Fit (gyms), Total Energies (energy) and Temenos (banking software). The fund reduced several positions, such as Shell (energy) and Sage (accounting software) after strong periods of performance. It also sold out of other positions including DS Smith (packaging) and received the proceeds from the EMIS (Healthcare software) takeover by UnitedHealth.

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

FUND OUTLOOK

Equity markets have diverged since the start of 2024 after the strong finish to 2023. Underperformance from UK and European equities have contrasted with strong US markets, although this has been partially driven by technology stocks after strong earnings results.

The technology and financial sectors are among the few sectors seeing rising earnings prospects for 2024, but the former is coming with a highly elevated valuation premium compared with the broader market. The fund has been adding to its technology holdings throughout the past year, but the market's ability to swing between optimism and pessimism for many of these stocks reminds us there may be a time to reduce positions as sentiment changes.

Early economic data has so far shown a better-than-expected picture from the US, with a key manufacturing survey delivering a strong reading for new orders, suggesting that US manufacturing may be through the worst parts of its slowdown. Inflation also continues to show broad-based declines across regions, although if economic growth rebounds strongly, it may also bring inflation with it.

Economic optimism has spread to equity and other investment markets, although the magnitude of expected interest rate cuts may prove to be optimistic. We consider corporate bond spreads to be tight, compared to historic average levels, and this provides scope for disappointment if the outlook is a little more volatile than currently expected. Government bonds offer reasonable value, now that yields exceed long-term inflation targets, but we continue to believe that equities offer the most attractive long-term valuations. The fund stands ready to deploy its cash balances to purchase assets that we wish to own for the long term, particularly when financial markets present attractive valuation opportunities.

* Fund shown is the X-Class Accumulation series, bid prices at the end of the day. Performance of all unit series are available on pages 52–54.

 The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 37.5% FTSE All-Share - Total Return, 32.5% FTSE Developed ex UK - Total Return, 5% FTSE Emerging Markets - Total Return, 10% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks - Total Return, 10% iBoxx £ Corporates - Total Return Indices and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The benchmark is rebalanced annually on 1 January, and makes no allowances for taxes, fees and charges.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital/income growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

From 1 July 2023, the composite benchmark is composed as follows: 37.5% FTSE All-Share Index, 32.5% FTSE Developed World ex-UK Index, 5% FTSE Emerging Markets Index, 10% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks Index, 10% iBoxx (Sterling) Corporates Index and 5% Sterling Overnight Index Average (SONIA) interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest in UK and international equities (largely dividend paying) with the remainder largely being invested in fixed interest securities.

The Fund may also invest in other transferable securities, cash, near cash, deposits, money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes.

More than 35% of the Fund may be invested in government and public securities issued by or on behalf of or guaranteed by the Government of the United Kingdom.

The Fund may use derivatives for the purpose of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year.

The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

More information about fund performance, including benchmarks and comparisons, can be found later in this report.

Corporate unitholders information

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% franked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates. Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase. The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew. This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

WESLEYAN MODERATE RISK/REWARD GROWTH FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan Moderate Risk/Reward Growth Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges of 6.12%* over the period, compared to the benchmark that delivered a return of 7.23%.

The six-month period to 31 December was a volatile one for financial markets, characterised by 'stop-start' performance between July and October, before most major asset classes performed strongly during November and December. Unfortunately, the fund lost ground versus the benchmark over this volatile period. A combination of UK equities trailing their overseas peers, and a strong recovery in longer-dated government and corporate bonds in the final two months, proved to be adverse compared to our positioning. Viewed through the lens of peer performance, the fund outperformed many competitor funds over the six-month period, something that we should not lose sight of.

Markets were on the front foot in July as inflation readings continued to moderate. Despite this, EU and US central banks still voted to move interest rates higher in July – reflecting their view that policy tightening was still necessary. Equity markets endured a tougher August, retreating in the face of central bank rate increases, ongoing unease about the sustainability of US government budget deficits and persistent concerns about the financial health of the Chinese real estate sector. Equity and bond markets were mixed during September, but October marked a notable downturn for assets as the outbreak of conflict in the Middle East hit sentiment at a time when central banks remained resolute that interest rates needed to be 'higher for longer'.

November and December, however, heralded a rally for major asset classes – as the Middle East conflict looked to be 'contained' and global inflation continued along a downward trajectory. Consequently, there were growing investor expectations for interest rate cuts in 2024. Lower inflation and interest rates, coupled with resilient economic growth, allowed bonds and equities to post solid gains in the final two months of 2023.

Bouts of weakness in government bond prices during the summer allowed the fund to make several purchases to add exposure and duration at more attractive yield levels than we have seen for quite some time. This was as a result of interest rate expectations climbing during the summer and autumn, demonstrating how we actively manage the fund to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. Within equity markets, the fund continued to reduce UK equity exposure in names such as Centrica (utilities), Hunting (energy), Rolls-Royce, TUI (travel & leisure) and Vistry (consumer goods). In turn, global names such as ASML (technology), Bureau Veritas (industrial), Estee Lauder, Kering (consumer goods), Nestle, Pernod Ricard (beverages), Puma, Sanofi (healthcare), Starbucks, Walmart (retail) and Worldline (financial services) were purchased to boost exposure to overseas markets.

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

FUND OUTLOOK

Inflationary pressures are still receding across the globe, allowing central banks to not only bring a halt to the sequential rate increases that were previously applied – but to now start considering the possibility of unwinding some of that policy tightening through rate cuts in 2024. Financial markets constantly try to predict and 'price' future rate expectations into the values of asset classes such as bonds and equities. Both asset classes have recently benefitted from the belief that central banks will deliver several interest rates cuts this year, although this remains a key area of deliberation for 2024.

Economic data has remained surprisingly robust and central bank policy makers are keen to stress that they want to see sufficient evidence that inflation will remain sustainably closer to the 2% level that many developed market economies target. This has resulted in asset classes making a tentative start to January 2024, but some apprehension is starting to creep back into asset prices – as investors recalibrate their expectations of how much valuation support will come in the form of lower interest rates.

For several reasons, 2024 is likely to contain bouts of asset price volatility. Not only are markets trying to establish whether higher-than-target inflation has genuinely been resolved, but we continue to encounter persistent geopolitical threats and must also navigate a swathe of key elections in democracies around the world. Ongoing geopolitical flashpoints in Eastern Europe and the Middle East increase the possibility of an escalation in regional fighting, and are something we monitor closely. Heightened levels of 'uncertainty' typically cause equity markets to decline and bond markets to rise, as investors seek safety. As such, we are using opportunities of weakness in bond prices, or when we have bonds maturing within the portfolio, to maintain our exposure to bonds at this moment in time. We also continue to diversify the fund's equity exposure, from UK equities into overseas markets – particularly when market valuations make this transition favourable. This aligns with our 'contracyclical' investment stance and long-term lens, looking much further ahead than most other investors. We continue to remain more constructive on the longer-term returns we can generate from equities, and this underpins our conviction to make selective purchases in periods of market weakness – exemplified by many of the purchases we made during the last six months.

 The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 27.5% UK FTSE All Share - Total Return, 25% FTSE Developed ex UK - Total Return, 2.5% FTSE Emerging Markets - Total Return, 20% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks - Total Return, 20% iBoxx £ Corporates - Total Return Indices and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The benchmark is rebalanced annually on 1 January, and makes no allowances for taxes, fees and charges.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

From 1 July 2023, the composite benchmark is composed as follows: 27.5% FTSE All-Share Index, 25% FTSE Developed World ex-UK index, 2.5% FTSE Emerging Markets Index, 20% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks Index, 20% iBoxx (Sterling) Corporate Index and 5% Sterling Overnight Index Average (SONIA) interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest predominantly in a diversified portfolio of UK and international equities, government bonds, corporate bonds and cash. Investments will be made across various sectors and may include companies anywhere in the world.

The Fund may also invest in other fixed interest and transferable securities, near cash, deposits and money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes. More than 35% of the Fund may be invested in government and public securities issued by or on behalf of or guaranteed by the Government of the United Kingdom.

The Fund may use derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year. The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

More information about fund performance, including benchmarks and comparisons, can be found later in this report.

Corporate unitholders information (Unaudited)

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% franked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates. Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase. The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew. This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

WESLEYAN RISK AVERSE FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan Risk Averse Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges of 7.56%,* in line with the 7.67% average return of the IA UK Gilts sector but well ahead of the 5.51% return delivered by the fund's benchmark over the same period.

These positive returns are highly welcome after a period of rising yields and hence negative returns, and were a function of two distinct halves over the reporting period for the UK bond market.

UK Government Bond (gilt) yields continued to trend higher over the summer as the UK economy lagged global peers in its rate of disinflationary forces and the Bank of England's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) persisted with its hard-talking stance on tight monetary policy. A final 0.25% increase in UK interest rates in August took the bank rate to 5.25%.

The benchmark 10-year gilt yield even briefly exceeded the heights of autumn 2022's 'mini-budget debacle' rising to levels not seen in the UK for 15 years following the global financial crisis.

However, the delay with which monetary policy impacts the real economy makes the task of setting interest rates especially difficult and remains the reason we expect the UK bank rate to remain high, until the MPC is convinced inflation is under control. Reports of softer wage growth and a continued easing of inflation were met with increased speculation that the Bank of England had enacted sufficiently restrictive monetary policy in its efforts to combat price pressures in the broader economy. In our report 12 months ago, we highlighted our expectation that UK bank rates would peak between 4.5% and 5%, depending on progress made in reducing inflation; this view has turned out to be only slightly lower than reality.

The second half of the period saw bond yields begin to decline, pushing prices higher as expectations grew that interest rates had peaked. Yields accelerated their move lower in December, despite the Bank of England's own efforts to reiterate the need for policy to remain 'sufficiently restrictive for sufficiently long'. Markets clearly prioritised the dovish pivot of the US Federal Reserve Chair, Jerome Powell, on the day before, as a sign of confidence that global central banks would begin to cut rates as early as the first half of 2024.

Activity within the fund over the last six months has been limited but we continued our strategy of incrementally extending the average duration of the portfolio by adding bonds not due to mature until 2038 and 2046 at attractive yields, in anticipation of rates falling over time. These two purchases achieved total returns above 10% from purchase to period end as yields fell.

Index returns over the six-month period favoured longer-dated bonds with shorter-dated gilts (less than five years to maturity) delivering a 5.6% return, whilst those with more than 15 years to maturity delivered a 7.9% return.

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

FUND OUTLOOK

Whilst we expect the MPC to announce rate cuts in 2024, perhaps eventually settling within a more normal 3–4% range, we are mindful of the exuberance in assuming rapid loosening of monetary conditions that became commonplace towards the end of 2023. The question for bond markets has now shifted from if rates can soon be cut, to how quickly and deeply this process will occur. Although Prime Minister Rishi Sunak's pledge to halve the UK inflation rate from its double-digit heights by the end of 2023 has been achieved, it ended 2023 still around double its 2% target. December's surprise uptick in CPI to 4% illustrates the overexcitement in bond markets, with longer-dated gilts making a more troubled start to the new year as yields have risen.

The geopolitical environment remains a key source of upside inflation risk as 2024 is a year of global politics, with more voters than in any other year expected to be polled for national elections. The UK is no exception, with a general election expected to be called in the second half of 2024. Leadership changes could induce temporary uncertainty in financial markets, but we remain particularly cautious that any stimulative fiscal policies announced in the run-up to elections, aimed at winning the support of voters, may carry unintended consequences of reigniting sticky wage pressures in the labour market and service sector inflation. Moreover, conflict in the Middle East has increased uncertainty and the risk to shipping costs. Further supply chain disruptions from transport delays along critical Red Sea trade routes may feed their way into goods' price inflation.

We would caution against assuming the near-term repeatability of unitholders' positive mid-single-digit returns of the last six months if interest rate cuts do not materialise at the market's currently assumed pace. However, we expect the fund to continue outperforming market cash rates over the long term.

* Fund shown is the X-Class Accumulation series, bid prices at the end of the day. Performance of all unit series are available on pages 86–87.

 The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 85% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts up to 5 Years – Total Return, 5% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Bonds Gilts over 15 Years – Total Return, 7.5% FTSE Actuaries UK Index Linked Government Bonds Gilts All Stocks – Total Return and 2.5% SONIA interest rate benchmark.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 85% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts up to 5 years, 5% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts over 15 years, 7.5% FTSE Actuaries UK Index Linked Government Bonds All Stocks – Total Return Index and 2.5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest predominantly through Sterling denominated (or hedged back to Sterling) government backed securities, with a rating the same or higher than that of the UK, with at least 80% invested in UK government securities (Gilts).

The Fund may also invest in other fixed interest and transferable securities, near cash, deposits, money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes.

More than 35% of the Fund may be invested in government and public securities issued by or on behalf of or guaranteed by the Government of the United Kingdom.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year.

The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

More information about fund performance, including benchmarks and comparisons, can be found later in this report.

Corporate unitholders information

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% unfranked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates.

Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase.

The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew.

This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

WESLEYAN UK GROWTH FUND

FUND REVIEW

This is the half-year report for the Wesleyan UK Growth Fund covering the period from 1 July 2023 to 31 December 2023. The fund delivered a return after charges, of 6.67%,* outperforming the benchmark which delivered a return of 5.04%.

This was a challenging period for global markets. Geopolitical concerns continued to intensify following the atrocities in the Middle East. The uncertainty of the true impact of this conflict initially caused markets to fall. But, as the impact appeared to be fairly contained, markets began to rally and were given fresh impetus by comments from Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell, who implied that interest rates may have peaked. Markets rallied, on the hope that the hiking interest rate cycle had peaked and that central banks would start to cut interest rates as early as March 2024.

In the UK, inflation moderated more than expected, falling to 3.9% in November, before unexpectedly rising to 4% in December. The downward trend in inflation from the October 2022 peak of 11.1% was a welcome relief. GDP rose to 0.3% month-on-month in November, above consensus forecasts, which could indicate the UK will avoid a recession in 2023. Wage growth also slowed faster than expected. These are all potential signs that the UK economy was more robust in 2023 than many had forecasted.

The fund's outperformance can be attributed to the strong rebound of the small and mid-sized companies compared to their larger peers. These economically sensitive companies generally fare better when markets anticipate interest rate cuts. For example, the housebuilding and real estate sectors performed strongly in the period, with Taylor Wimpey and Land Securities both outperforming. Stocks such as On the Beach, the travel retailer, announced a rebound in their profits, leading the stock to significantly outperform. Despite concerns about consumers' spending power, resilient retailers such as AB Foods (owner of Primark) and Marks & Spencer both issued strong results and performed strongly during the period.

We sold our holdings in Sainsbury's, Schroders, InterContinental Hotels, and Vistry and bought new positions in RWS, a translation and technology search company, Spire Healthcare, a private healthcare provider, Premier Foods, the manufacturer of Mr Kipling, Oxo and Ambrosia custard, Greggs, the British bakery chain, Convatec, the medical devices and equipment manufacturer, Inchcape, the car sales and distributor, and Tritax Eurobox, the owner of logistical assets.

The full list of portfolio holdings can be found later in this report.

From a valuation perspective, we believe the UK stock market continues to look attractive compared to global markets and other asset classes, and will continue to invest in quality, reasonably valued companies.

FUND OUTLOOK

Inflation has fallen from record highs, and the market now anticipates that the Bank of England will begin to reduce interest rates in the second half of 2024. If inflation proves to be sticky, because of rising energy prices or rising wage rates, the market could be disappointed by the Bank of England keeping interest rates higher for longer, which in turn could have negative consequences for economic growth.

The Chinese government has failed in its attempt to stimulate its economy and stimulus measures have, so far, underwhelmed investors. As a major commodity user, the outlook for China affects the outlook for commodities. The UK stock market has a greater weighting in commodities than European or US markets, therefore what happens in China will have an impact on UK markets. If China succeeds in its attempt to stimulate the economy, commodity prices will rise, and this will have a positive impact on UK stock markets.

* Fund shown is the X-Class Accumulation series, bid prices at the end of the day. Performance of all unit series are available on pages 98–99.

 The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 95% FTSE All Share – Total Return, and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The benchmark is rebalanced annually on 1 January, and makes no allowances for taxes, fees, and charges.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over a period of at least five years. We measure the success of the fund as outperforming a benchmark over a rolling five-year period. We do this by comparing the investment performance, after fees and charges, to a composite benchmark which reflects the current risk rating of the fund. The benchmark is a target for the fund.

The composite benchmark is composed as follows: 95% FTSE All Share – Total Return Index, and 5% SONIA interest rate benchmark. The organisation decides which asset classes to invest in based on its investment policy and the specific objectives of each fund.

The Fund will invest predominantly in a diversified portfolio of UK equities. Under normal circumstances the emphasis will be on equity shares in the UK. The Fund may invest in various sectors.

The Fund may also invest in fixed interest and other transferable securities (including non-UK equities), cash, near cash, deposits, money-market instruments and other collective investment schemes.

The Fund may use derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The risk category is based on the rate the fund's value has moved up and down in the past and has remained unchanged from the prior year.

The fund's value can be influenced by changes in stock market prices, currencies and interest rates which can be affected by factors such as political and economic events.

This risk category is calculated in line with European Securities Markets Authority (ESMA) rules using historical data.

This is not a guarantee and may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk and reward category.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a 'risk free' investment.

A fuller explanation of the risk and reward profile and how it can move up and down based on the market volatility, is contained in the fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID). KIIDs are available at www.wesleyan.co.uk/fund-prices

More information about fund performance, including benchmarks and comparisons, can be found later in this report.

Group 1	5.0394	-	5.0394	5.2302
Group 2	2.7627	2.2767	5.0394	5.2302

Corporate unitholders information

For corporate unitholders all of the income relating to the distribution is 100% franked.

Equalisation

Group 1 and 2 (see top of the page for dates) unitholders receive the same dividend amount per unit. Group 1 payments entirely comprise of income and therefore Equalisation does not apply to this group.

Group 2 payments take into account two components as they are between two dividend dates. Part of the payment for Group 2 unitholders comes from the income that accumulated from the date of unit purchase. The second part comes from partial returns on units that were bought at a higher price when the cash reserve grew. This is known as capital repayment. It is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of the shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

NOTES TO THE TRUST'S FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These are the unaudited interim accounts of the Trust and the funds within for the period ended 31 December 2023. Disclosed below is the basis of preparation for the unaudited interim accounts.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost basis, as modified by the revaluation of investments, in compliance with the Financial Conduct Authority's Collective Investments Schemes sourcebook. They have been prepared in accordance with applicable UK accounting standards, Trust Deed and in accordance with FRS 102 and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice for Financial Statements of UK Authorised Funds issued by the Investment Association in May 2014 (the 2014 SORP) and amended in June 2017. Unless otherwise stated all accounting policies are consistent with those of the prior year.

These financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis. The Manager has made an assessment of the Funds' ability to continue as a going concern, and is satisfied it has the resources to continue in business for the foreseeable future and is not aware of any material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt on this assessment.

2. Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the results for the period. In general, the tax accounting treatment follows that of the original amount. Deferred tax is provided on all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date other than those recorded as permanent differences.

Deferred tax is provided at the average rate of tax expected to apply.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted to reflect the time value of money.

Note that deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent they are regarded as recoverable.
