

ASSET FINANCE FOR EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTES

THE EQUIPMENT AND TECHNOLOGY YOU NEED TODAY

Supporting your business growth

With schools, academies, colleges, universities and other educational institutes working to strict budgets and having to justify each expenditure, it can be difficult to acquire the assets and equipment that schools need to keep them up-to-date with technology. With competition between educational institutes fiercer than ever, one way to differentiate is the extent to which schools can adopt the latest equipment and modern-day learning environments.

Asset finance can allow schools to acquire the technology that they need, and have it installed, before starting to pay towards the equipment, which can help manage budgets. Predictability over cash flow can accelerate return on investment. It also allows you to create modern facilities for learning for the benefits of their students.

Wesleyan Bank can support your educational institute in acquiring the latest technology, inside and outside of the classroom. One of our expert account managers will work with you from beginning to end to guarantee a tailored approach, ensuring that we achieve your key objectives and budgetary requirements.

A solution that is all about you

Our dedicated account managers have specialist knowledge of the education sector and will work with you to develop a finance solution suitable to your specific needs and meets current legislative requirements.
